Parking Lot Decision Due

Officials to Decide On Meters Or Gates

Should the city spend $9,460 for parking meters for the new municipal lot on E. Pershing St. or install a double set of gates at the lot entrances at half the cost of the meters?

That's the question Mayor Dean Cranmer is going to ask of City Council.

The mayor said today that he had received a letter from the Brackens Co. of Cleveland offering to install coin-operated gates at the lot at a cost of $4,610.

The mayor said he personally favors the gates because the lot itself could be kept free of meters and posts and could be used for other functions when the need arose.

It has been planned to install 164 re-built parking meters at a cost of $9,460, according to estimates of the McGhee-Hale Co. of Oklahoma City, where the city buys its parking meters on a contract agreement.

Work is progressing on the large parking lot on E. Pershing between Penn Ave. and South Lundy. Service department trucks have been hauling in heavy slag, which will be topped by a finer grade of slag and then black-

Three area drivers were each fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in the Columbiana County jail Monday for driving while intoxicated. The sentences were pronounced by Judge Herbert Arfman at the eastern area county court in East Palestine.

Found guilty of driving while intoxicated were William H. Hurst, 235 Ohio Ave., Salem; Presley J. Wilson, 27 S. Elm St., Columbiana; and Clarence W. Zacharias, 1121 Mick Rd., Wells-ville.

Also fined by Judge Arfman Monday was William L. Weikert of Washingtonville, $10 and costs for failure to yield the right of way.

Earl J. Faulk of E. Park Ave. Ext., Columbiana, forfeited a $15 bond for speeding.

Communist Police Tighten Controls

Reds Halting Flow Of Berlin Refugees

BERLIN (AP)—A Western official said today tightened control by Communist police has succeeded in cutting down the flow of refugees into West Berlin.

"More people are trying to come now," he said, "but fewer are getting through. It used to be that one was stopped by every two that made it, but now it's nearer one-for-one."

Other sources, however, minimized the role of police controls in checking the refugee flow. They pointed out that many who

51 Injured In Georgia Train Collision

MACON, Ga. (AP)—"We were riding along talking and all of a sudden there was a terrible jolt," a teen-age girl said.

The jolt was the Central of Georgia's streamlined passenger train, the Nancy Hanks, colliding head-on with a freight train 10 miles east and a little south of Macon.

Fifty-one persons were treated at hospitals Monday night but the engineer of the Nancy Hanks, George B. Wheeler of Savannah, was the only one believed injured seriously.

The Nancy Hanks was on the way from Atlanta to Savannah. Jack Mason, district machinery supervisor for the Central of Georgia, said freight train No. 95 was running behind schedule and failed to reach a sidetrack in time to clear the main line for the passenger train.

Albert Kelly, conductor, said his freight train had stopped when the crew realized the main line could not be cleared in time and a flagman was dispatched on foot ahead of the freight train in a futile effort to flag the approaching passenger train.

None Injured In Two Accidents

No one was injured in either of two traffic accidents on Columbiana County highways Monday.

A car driven by Elizabeth Bertelsen, 69, of RD 1, Columbiana, and a tractor-trailer operated by Roger W. Swanker, 24, of RD 1, Homersville, collided at the intersection of Rts. 14 and 164 at 2:40 p.m.

Both drivers claimed to have had the green light. There were no witnesses, the State Highway Patrol said.

A car driven by William J. Toot of 333 W. Park Ave., Columbiana, was struck from the rear by a tractor-trailer on Rt. 7, just north of East Fairfield, at 1:40 p.m. The Patrol said Clifton P. Gainey, 42, of Sanford, Fla., was unable to stop his truck in time to avoid crashing into the car which had stopped for another vehicle making a left turn into a private drive.

The truck swung out and struck the left rear of Toot's auto. Gainey was cited for failure to stop in an assured clear distance.

planned to flee after school ended July 8 have probably made it by now. A large number of young people are among the refugees.

The official, who watches the refugee flow carefully for a Western mission in Berlin, said the numbers arriving are still somewhat above normal even for this peak vacation period.

Over the weekend—Saturday afternoon to Monday afternoon—the arrivals numbered 2,575, but it was nearly 3,000 the weekend before.

The Western official said Communist police seem to be doing everything short of actually stopping trains to check the stream.

Their difficulty is compounded by the fact that Berlin is a main rail transfer point for East Germany and would-be refugees can buy tickets within the country, then flee when they reach there. Hundreds of subway and elevated trains go from East Berlin to West Germany everyday, and it is virtually impossible to check every passenger on each one.

In addition to troubles with the youth, the Reds are also having difficulties with farmers who insist they want to get out of collectives.

Neues Deutschland, the official daily of the East German regime, told today of a meeting at Bruesenhagen, northwest of Berlin, where Communist orators tried in vain to get the farmers' consent to stay.

The Communists tried to convince them that in West Germany farmers are losing their land to rocket bases and military airfields. The farmers admitted they do not want this to happen to them, "but they would not take back their withdrawal applications."

Neues Deutschland said. East German farm land was collectivized in the spring of 1960. In theory, any farmer can withdraw. In practice it takes great courage to buck official Communist policy. There have been persistent reports of farmers trying to withdraw—but none that they have actually been permitted to do so.

Western experts blame collectivization for many of the supply difficulties in East Germany that have been helping increase the flow of refugees to the West.

Farmers were promised an eight-hour day, and many of them are taking the promise seriously—even at peak work periods when they are traditionally in the fields from dawn to dusk.

Emergency Throat Operation By Dad Saves Son's Life

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—William Sears, a steelworker, decided there was no time to take his 6-month-old son, David, to a hospital when the boy choked on a piece of teething cookie Monday night.

The child was turning blue from lack of oxygen when Sears got a paring knife, made an incision in David's throat and dislodged the piece of cookie.

Sears said he had read about tracheotomies and felt he knew what to do.

David was held overnight at St. Joseph Hospital for observation.

Bourguiba Cites Another Battle If French Stay

Asks Other Nations To Provide Troops, Arms, Aircraft

TUNIS (AP)—Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba accused France today of violating the U.N. Security Council's Bizerte ceasefire order by refusing to withdraw to their prebattle positions and by extending their hold on Tunisian territory.

Bourguiba warned at a news conference that fighting may break out again. He said he had told nations that had offered volunteers to help Tunisia that he needed trained guerrilla fighters, planes based in Tunisia or other countries, arms and mobile anti-aircraft batteries.

Bourguiba did not accuse the French of renewing the attack. But he said if they did not withdraw from Bizerte city into the naval base enclave, "fighting is bound to start again."

"We have decided to resist until the end and we are prepared for new hostilities," the president declared.

"We have decided to inform the Security Council that this cannot continue. This situation cannot last indefinitely."

While Bourguiba spoke, U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold conferred with Tunisian officials in an effort to keep the crisis from reaching bigger proportions.

Hammarskjold, who arrived in the Tunisian capital Monday at Bourguiba's invitation, was studying Tunisia's case against France in one of the thorniest and most difficult tasks of his career.

A number of Tunisians doubted that the U.N. official would produce a solution that would satisfy Tunisia, which wants total unconditional French withdrawal from the Bizerte base.

The U.N. chief was tight-lipped when he emerged from Bourguiba's seaside summer palace 10 miles outside the capital. His only comment to newsmen was that he had not scheduled a visit to the city of Bizerte, which the French in four days of bloody fighting captured before a ceasefire call from the U.N. Security Council stopped the shooting.

The secretary-general, who described the crisis as "a matter of urgency," was reported to have told officials he could not foresee how many days his mission would take. U.N. sources in New York said Hammarskjold was expected to return Thursday.

A Tunisian delegation source at U.N. headquarters in New York said another Security Council session on Bizerte was virtually certain late this week.

The Tunisians accused France of flouting the council's resolution, which also called on both sides to return to their prebattle positions in Bizerte. French government sources have said France would not pull back until the Tunisian government guarantees her free communications to and between the various installations.

Recess Eichmann Trial After 70 Grueling Days

JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann's defense rested today and the Israeli court trying the former Gestapo officer recessed until Aug. 3 for defense and prosecution attorneys to prepare their final arguments.

The recess came after 70 days of court testimony in the trial of Eichmann on charges that as head of the Jewish Affairs Section of the SS, he had major responsibility for the wartime massacre of the Jews.

The court in this first major phase of the Eichmann trial heard 112 witnesses for the prosecution, almost all of them survivors of the Nazi death camps. The only defense witness was the defendant himself, although affidavits were submitted on his behalf from several former Nazis now in Germany or Austria who would not come to Israel because they feared arrest.

Eichmann was on the stand for 25 days, reviewing the mountain of testimony and documentary evidence introduced against him. He maintained throughout that he was only a minor figure in the

Gagarin Leads Revolt Parade In Havana

HAVANA (AP)—Soviet space man Yuri Gagarin was to lead an hours-long parade of 70,000 athletes and dancers through the streets of Havana today in celebration of the eighth anniversary of Fidel Castro's revolutionary movement.

It was the second day in town for Gagarin, 27, who got a rainy hero's welcome Monday on his arrival for the four-day celebration of the 26th of July Movement.

Prime Minister Castro personally escorted the Soviet major through a round of social functions. Wherever they went the Cubans cheered wildly.

A drenching thunderstorm broke as the Soviet plane bringing Gagarin landed at flag-decked Jose Marti Airport outside Havana.

Gagarin and the welcoming delegation were soaked to the skin. Castro, dripping, threw his arms around the smiling spaceman and gave him a clammy bear hug.

Gagarin flashed his wide grin at the spectators, then rode with Castro and President Osvaldo Dorticos into Havana in an open-

Plane Crew Is Ready For Return Flight

Cuban Leader Acts After Hijacking Of U.S. Aircraft

BULLETIN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has authorized a special flight to bring home the passengers of a hijacked Eastern Air Lines plane, Pan American World Airways announced today.

A spokesman for Pan American said a DC7B and a crew were standing by, awaiting a go-ahead from Eastern. The special plane could take off for Havana at 2 p.m. (EST) and return to Miami at 4 p.m. the spokesman said, if all went well.

HAVANA (AP)—The Swiss Embassy sought today to arrange the return to Miami of passengers and crew of a hijacked U.S. airliner, but its efforts were hampered by the anniversary celebration of Fidel Castro's revolution.

A spokesman said the embassy hoped to get the Americans aboard a Pan American flight to Miami today but so far hadn't been able to get the necessary permission because all government agencies were closed until Friday for the anniversary celebration.

The Eastern Air Lines prop-jet Electra was on a flight from Miami to Tampa, New Orleans and Dallas with 33 passengers and a crew of five Monday when an unidentified passenger pulled a gun and forced the pilot to fly to Havana.

Prime Minister Castro was said to have no objections to returning the passengers and crew as soon as arrangements could be made.

His government reportedly intends, however, to hold the plane unless the United States turns over six Cuban planes that have been seized in Florida to satisfy a legal judgment against the Cuban regime.

The passengers and crew were being held under close police guard and newsmen were prevented from talking to them. Reporters saw them from a distance when they landed at Havana's Jose Marti Airport. No one appeared to have been injured in the incident.

It was not known where the passengers and crew were being held. Nor was there any clue to the identity of the gunman who hijacked the plane.

One of the passengers was Luis Rodriguez, No. 1 contender for the world welterweight boxing championship. He was en route to Dallas for a fight Thursday night with Curtis Cokes.

Because the Foreign Ministry was closed for the anniversary festivities, the Swiss Embassy said it also had not been able to present a U.S. demand for return of the plane and the personnel which the State Department rushed to Havana as soon as it was informed of the incident.

Switzerland has represented the U.S. government in Cuba since Havana and Washington severed diplomatic relations.

Cities Unable To Foot Bill

Uncle Sam Expected To Pay For Civil Defense Sharpening

EDITOR'S NOTE—In this second of four articles on the posture of U.S. civil defense, Sterling F. Green discusses financial aspects of the program as well as the present hazard, the problem it presents and the proposed start toward a solution.

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — With public concern over civil defense sharpening, officials think Congress may be induced at last to provide a vital ingredient—money, in big quantities.

When mayors, governors and local civil defense officials call for "more vigorous federal leadership," it usually means they want Uncle Sam to put up the money that overburdened city treasuries cannot provide.

The Kennedy administration has accepted the view that the job is worth doing and that the government must foot much of the bill to get a national shelter program going.

In three long sentences, here is the threat, the problem it presents, and the administration's proposed start toward a solution.

The hazard: In a successful, surprise nuclear assault by missiles and bombers, 70 million Americans might be exposed to death or disability by blast, radiation and fallout, while panic, confusion, and hunger might be spread through much of the surviving population.

The problem: To save as many as possible—perhaps half of the 70 million in the prime danger zones—from the wind-borne, radiation-laden dust which is called fallout and which might reach 75 to 80 per cent of the whole land area; this would leave about 150 million Americans still alive to work and fight.

President Kennedy's recommended solution: With some $200 million to be provided on top of the $100 million already asked, to start surveying, marking and improving potential shelters in existing apartment houses, office buildings, schools, dormitories, factories and warehouses; to install shelters in new and old federal structures, and to match state and local funds for shelters in local public buildings.

With such a concentration of shelter zones across the country it would be possible to protect virtually the entire populations of those cities which are spared from actual nuclear blasts, officials believe. A preliminary survey indicates, for instance, that

Across the northern boundary of the State of Ohio for some 185 miles, the blue waters of Lake Erie wash our shores and provide boating, fishing and swimming recreation for many thousands of families.

Beyond the fifty miles of open water lies the Canadian province of Ontario, and Lake Erie is the playground for both of our nations.

Sail boats and power squadrons from many yacht clubs stage their regattas on Lake Erie. Cedar Point at Sandusky, with one of the finest beaches in the world, is one of the most popular of Ohio's Great Lakes playgrounds. Crane Creek State Beach Park near Toledo, East Harbor State Park near Port Clinton and Head-

Kansas City, Mo., could be made relatively safe from fallout without any new construction.

This implies that stocks of food and medical supplies would be on hand. Providing them will take still more federal and local dollars. The President said that his budget requests "will increase sharply in subsequent years."

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Anti-Epileptic Drugs

Q—Is it true that drugs used in the treatment of epilepsy often cause cancer?

A—It's decidedly untrue. The origin of this false assertion lies in the production of tissue overgrowths in certain areas, like the gums, when certain persons take anti-epileptic drugs of the hydantoin series (Dilantin etc.).

These overgrowths disappear as soon as the offending drug is stopped and another of a different chemical constitution is substituted.

What often causes confusion is failure of the patient to notify the dentist or a strange physician of the nature of his illness and the medication that is being taken. This ill-advised reluctance to give a correct history is understandable but not justifiable. The epileptic has nothing to hide. He harms only himself by withholding information that would instantly explain the origin of the tissue overgrowth.

Q—I WONDER if you can settle a family argument. I've been an active participant in athletics all of my life. Now that I'm pregnant, my mother and my mother-in-law insist that I give up athletic competitions of all sorts. Is this necessary? Or even advisable?

A—A recent study at Columbia University confirms the opinions that many physicians have held, to these many years. In general, about nine or ten pregnancies proceed to term. When the one in ten does not, every possible excuse is advanced. Too much exercise. A blow on the abdomen. Fright. Travel by bus, train, car or airplane. Lack of consideration on the part of the husband. Too much consideration by the husband, etc. etc.

As a matter of fact, the Columbia study exonerates activities like dancing, bowling, riding, bicycling, skiing, gardening and even motor-cycling. During the war, each of us attended women who went through uncomplicated pregnancies despite travel by all sorts of vehicles. Many women play tennis and golf until shortly before the baby arrives.

But who am I to take issue with so formidable a combination as your mother and your mother-in-law?

Q—I READ IN YOUR COLUMN about the woman whose arms go to sleep when she sleeps on the opposite side. I have just the opposite problem. When I sleep on my right side my right arm goes to sleep and when I sleep on my left side, my left arm goes numb. Both arms go numb when I sleep on my stomach and my legs and feet go to sleep when I sleep on my back. I am awake off and on, all night turning back and forth. Any suggestions as to what I can do?

A—How about joining the Navy and sleeping in a hammock?

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN — They're strictly professionals, these members of Cleveland Fire Department's Second Battalion. But when it comes to tending babies, they're enthusiastic volunteers. The men eat lunch regularly at the cafeteria of the DePaul Infant Home across the street from the fire station, where they play with the babies. They take them for strolls, lift beds and do other chores around the home. In return, when on 24-hour duty at holiday time, the men are invited over for a festive dinner.

We're Proud of Our Legion Band

The congratulations of all Salemites are extended to members of the American Legion Quaker City Band for winning back the Ohio championship in competition at the state Legion convention in Cincinnati over the weekend.

Our nattily-dressed, capable musicians usually put on a good impression wherever they appear and they have been responsible for carrying the good name of Salem far and wide. The band has held the Ohio title five years, but did not seek it in the past two years. The crowning achievement came in capturing of the national championship at Miami, Fla., in 1957, the year after they were runners-up.

The band success has not come easily, as some persons might think. It takes hours and hours of rehearsals and drills to qualify for competition. And it can be said hesitantly that the individual initiative of the Legionnaires to keep their band intact has been responsible for their esprit de corps that is so essential.

The American Legion Quaker City Band gets little financial support from the community in comparison to the musicians' good will efforts, so the least all of us can do at the moment is to give them the public salute they so richly deserve.

We're proud of you, men!

Please Don't Forget We're Here

In the simmering down of 1961 wage contract discussions in the automobile industry, a familiar issue is bubbling to the top.

Employers who have examined the United Auto Workers demands are protesting that ruinous inflation would be the result of granting them.

Spokesmen for the union retort that employers could well afford to give the union everything it asks for and more, without raising prices.

This falls on the public ear like the familiar strains of "The Old Gray Mare." We're not certain about the words, but the tune is something we've heard so long it's part of the American way of life.

But in all momentous negotiations in key industries the public ear also is cocked for something it never hears any more — something it used to hear all the time.

The public would like to hear some well-chosen words about bringing down the prices of the auto industry's products. It would like to hear the negotiators talk as if they remembered the mass consumption half of mass production — how they go together like love and marriage.

MANY OF US are old enough to remember how it all began. The savings that were made in more efficient mass production were passed along. They were shared with the public.

The aim was to sell more automobiles to more people, thereby creating and distributing more goods and getting more in return. If Henry Ford had pocketed one-half the gross profit on his Tin Lizzies and his employees had laid claim to the other half, this would still be a horse-and-buggy civil-

Difference Between Muscle and Flab

One detail of President Kennedy's appeal for a physical fitness program in the schools looms above the rest.

It is his recommendation for giving special attention to physically underdeveloped children.

In general, normally developed children need no special attention. At least they have nothing to gain from the kind of 15-minute-a-day exercise recommended by the President.

Outstanding physical specimens get all the attention they can stand from coaches, because they end up on organized teams. It is this very fact that makes underdeveloped children need special attention. They have been deliberately neglected because no one was interested in helping them.

We provide special teachers, special curriculums, even special buildings for mentally underdeveloped children. But scrawny kids never learn to use the physical potentialities they were born with. They are passed by. Not infrequently they are even excused from gym classes, on the claim that it would be medically injurious for them to break a sweat. And considering what most gym classes consist of, they don't miss much.

What the National Council of Youth Fitness is talking about is a program to help them overcome the handicap of underdeveloped physiques. There's no mystery about this, no guesswork. Some of the nation's best athletes got to be that way by taking special exercises to overcome physical handicaps.

This isn't something Americans should be doing just for the sake of beating the ram-bunctious Russians, either. That seems to be the only motivation for proposing anything — beating the Russians. But here is one program that could justify itself even if the Russians never had lobbed a satellite, fired a missile, or built a nuclear bomb.

In a country that believes every child is entitled to a minimum education, it should follow without argument that every child is entitled to the joy of knowing the difference between muscle and flab.

Once Over

All folks who have lived in house by the side of a golf links will get kick out of lawsuit which made a country club erect fence, set out trees and supply protective windows for Rye, N.Y., family under constant bombardment by wild golfers.

Anybody with bungalow bordering a links is a clay pigeon in shooting-gallery. The old homestead get golf balls in bedroom, living room, nursery and kitchen.

Some golfers insist on right to play ball out of a pot of soup or from fresh made strawberry shortcake.

We lived beside a golf course once and had to fight golf addicts who wanted to play ball out of a lace curtain and from the baby's crib. There were many arguments over whether golfer should be entitled to move baby without penalty.

One afternoon during a tournament the missus was in the bath when ball landed in tub. She waved flag of truce from window but duffer flashed special tournament rules, rushed into house and demanded that she get back into tub, allow him to LIFT HER and play ball from where it had landed!

On another occasion Aunt Minnie was baking a pumpkin pie and had taken it from the oven when a ball landed in it because golfer had used a niblick instead of wooden club.

Aunt Minnie said pie was out of bounds. Golfer insisted on right to throw it over his shoulder for better lie. His aim was poor and ball landed in an omelette on gas range. He swung at it there and missed ball. But omelette landed in lady's lap on porch next door. It's a tough life. Fore!

Painting of Man O' War to hang in Aqueduct Clubhouse, is well executed, but if fails to carry impression of all who ever saw great horse in action. Man O' War was noted for tremendous stride and unforgettable graceful movements, but painting shows him "all bunched up" in almost clumsy pose. Not even after a tough race did "Big Red" look that slow and awkward.

Arbitration board has partly upheld Herman Levin, producer, in fight against Lerner, Loewe and CBS over film rights to "My Fair Lady." It orders CBS to sell rights and let Levin bid. Song of all parties to fight has been "Get Me To The Mint On Time."

It has been generally supposed that Joe E. Lewis, nitery comic, wrote his own material, but when Eli Basse, gag writer, was asked on "Beck & Call" TV show "Isn't Lewis the only comedian who writes own material?" he replied, "No. I write all of it and have done so for 25 years." "You Were Saying..."

Space Era Benefits

Today's guest columnist for Victor Riesel is Wernher von Braun, director of the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center, National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

By WERNHER VON BRAUN
Huntsville, Ala.

When Victor Riesel invited me to fill in for him today, I was glad to get a chance to pinch hit for him. That is, until I found out what he wanted me to write about.

The subject? "How people's working lives will be affected by the space era."

This is a pretty big order. To tell you the truth, in these days of mushrooming technologies nobody knows exactly what developments we'll see; let alone do we know precisely how they will affect people's lives.

About all we know for sure is that, like the first cavemen who burned his hand over a fire, we'll be surprised.

But when you take a look at all the benefits man derived from the discovery of fire, then you get some faint idea of what today's space research might lead to.

SPACE TRAVEL today is about where the aviation industry was when its hottest aircraft was a hot air balloon.

In general, I am convinced that all mankind will benefit vastly from the by-products of new knowledge to be gained through space exploration.

No doubt all branches of science and industry will undergo change. Some changes may be minor, some radical.

Certainly those who work for a living, as well as the others, will lead more satisfying lives.

Surely with the advancement of science and technology, man will have greater opportunities for study, healthful recreation and creative pursuits.

As man moves from the machine age into the atomic era, he won't have to devote so much time to scratching for a living. He will have time, at last, to lead a richer, fuller life in every way.

NEW KNOWLEDGE will provide new man with more comforts... but at the same time with more challenges.

He'll be more comfortable when he gets a better house, a fuller stomach and good health.

And he'll be challenged — very sternly challenged — to improve his mind and morals.

We're going to learn so much about so many things in such a short time that we will all be astounded. And pleased. I trust.

In the years ahead man also will be happier.

Why? Because at no time is man happier than when he is satisfying his deep and eternal curiosity about himself and the universe around him.

As more and more people get wrapped up in the mysteries and revelations of space exploration, then more and more of us will share personally in the excitement and achievements ahead.

As I talk with people here and there around the country, I'm becoming more convinced daily that people — most of them, anyway — are as curious as we scientists are about what's out there.

PEOPLE WORKING in the following fields are bound to see and feel some changes soon:

Communications: When worldwide satellite communications become a reality within the next three or four years, then man can communicate by radio, television and telephone — by unjammable, uninterrupted means — from any point on earth to any other in all kinds of weather. Those working in this field should see their horizons widen in all directions.

Construction: Somebody's going to have to design, construct, erect and maintain man's first house on the moon before too long.

Electronics: Even greater advancements in electronics will be forthcoming that will touch and improve everyone's life in one way or another.

Navigation: With the help of navigation satellites man — as he rides, sails, flies or crawls over the earth — will at long last know exactly where he is. And for the first time we will have a decent map of the whole world.

Medicine: Space medicine is already a respectable medical specialty, and research in this area will become more vital and beneficial than ever as man himself continues to penetrate space.

Education: Not only will many new teaching aids be developed as a by-product of the space age, but more than ever before in history teachers will face the enormous task of keeping up with — and passing on to students — the new knowledge that will flood in from all directions.

Weather: The shipper, the farmer, the aviation industry and the golfer will reap many benefits from improved weather forecasting by means of weather observation satellites.

And don't forget that as man develops new tools, he creates a need for more services and those who provide them.

Briefly, then, even this sketchy look at the space age indicates that the lives of everyone everywhere — whether they work, loaf or ride a bicycle — will be affected through the discovery and application of new knowledge.

THROUGHOUT HISTORY, man has benefited from new knowledge. Even though a new discovery might seem useless at the moment it comes to light, man has always been able to put new knowledge to work for him.

When Luigi Galvani (using his electric arc) made a frog's leg jump by running a current through it about 170 years ago, what earthly good was it?

Not much really. Except it got him into a big argument with Count Volta about whether the source of the electricity was the frog leg or the arc.

This focused so much attention on electric currents that electrical research was pushed ahead rapidly and unexpectedly. And, as we know today, with tremendously fruitful results.

Nobody's saying that the electrical industry sprang from Galvani's frog. About the only fact he learned from the experiment was that an electric current would make the leg jump.

But it is from such simple facts that mighty inventions grow.

And so it will be with the knowledge that comes to us from this next, and greatest, adventure of mankind... the exploration of outer space.

An Economic Weapon

By DAVID LAWRENCE

A New Method Of Deterring The Communists

To most Americans—and perhaps Europeans, too, for that matter—the North Atlantic Treaty Organization of 15 countries,

David Lawrence

Secretary of State Rusk is to meet with the entire NATO council in Paris on Aug. 8 to discuss the part that NATO may take in the Berlin crisis.

What does economic warfare mean? In the cold war, it can be of tremendous value in deterring the enemy. For the Communists are infiltrating wherever they can and making trouble for the Western Allies.

Thus, in Italy, the Communists have some sort of working arrangement with officials in a state-owned company which buys oil from the Soviets at low rates and sells it at cut prices in world markets.

The Communists, of course, foot the bill and the objective is to demoralize and disrupt the whole oil traffic. Officials of the Italian company seem to have a lot of political influence inside Italy and there are rumors that the government itself is very much worried about the situation.

Two newspapers in Italy—which country is well informed about the Tunisian situation—said today the trouble in that North African nation is oil. One of the newspapers declares:

Tunis would like to force France to negotiate about the Sahara with all states bordering on the desert and interested in its oil production. But this would mark the end of any further negotiations with the Algerian Liberation front which is determined to fight to keep the Sahara."

Another newspaper likens the Bizerte dispute with the Sahara and its oil, which, it says, "seem to be the residual bones of the long and bloody Franco-Algerian Contention."

Back of the trouble in Iraq and Kuwait, moreover, is a Soviet attempt to upset the whole Western oil operation in the Middle East.

The more the subject is examined, the more it becomes apparent that many people in the United States and Europe who have been concentrating on the political or the military phases of the cold war have not become aware of the implications of the phrase "economic warfare."

OBVIOUSLY, no operation of this kind can be successful without the whole-hearted backing of the different governments of the West.

If the Communists establish an agency inside Italy to wreck the oil business of the West, it becomes a matter for the Italian government to examine carefully so as to determine what internal measures should be undertaken to prevent its territory from being used as a base for the Soviet cold war offensive.

President Kennedy is reported to have personally remonstrated with Italian Prime Minister Fanfani on this very point. It is rumored also that the prime minister Fanfani is planning a trip to Moscow very soon.

On a broader basis, NATO may — if the Berlin crisis becomes acute — turn out to be a vehicle for the establishment of an economic "quarantine" against the Communists.

It is a step fraught with many difficulties for the West, because it means a suspension of important economic activities, and this would be costly. But if the choice becomes one between nuclear war and a heavy expense for economic boycotts that would put the squeeze on the Communist bloc and stir up internal trouble for them, the latter step may become the better alternative.

This might even mean, in an emergency, some international subsidies to injured businesses.

IT WOULD BE of great help if ways and means of carrying on an economic boycott of the Communist countries were to be publicly discussed so that all nations, including the so-called neutral, would begin to understand that the West has an enormous power to affect the world economy.

Also there is no more effective way to provoke internal unrest — and perhaps revolutions inside some of the Communist countries — than to cut off their sources of raw materials and thus bring about unemployment in the factories.

The Kremlin will want to consider such eventualities as it hurls its threats and boasts of military strength.

While economic boycotts are not now being formally considered, the situation will change if the Berlin crisis becomes acute.

The first step then will be for NATO to examine the economic relations between East and West Germany and see what pressures can be exerted to force the abandonment of hostile policies begun by the East Germans at the behest of Moscow.

THE ECONOMIC WEAPON as a means of retaliation has only casually been explored heretofore, but the time is approaching when concrete steps can readily be included in what the diplomats and military leaders of the West now call "contingency planning."

Fortunately, the United States has put under one man in Paris the supervision of economic policies as well as political and military matters arising within NATO.

Thomas K. Finletter, who used to be secretary of the Air Force and is experienced in governmental affairs generally, has become the American ambassador to NATO. He makes frequent trips back and forth between Paris and Washington.

So They Say

In the name of the German Democratic Republic, in the name of the State Council, in the name of the Party Central Committee, I can solemnly vow before the world that no one will interfere in the internal affairs of West Berlin — East German chief of state Walter Ulbricht.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My parents have been fighting about their relatives on both sides for as long as I can remember. I am 12 years of age. Last night they had the worst fight of all. My father said my mother's sister brainwashed her and my mother said HIS sister brainwashed him.

My parents are both nice people and I don't want them to get a divorce. My father says he is willing to break off all connections with his sister if Mom will break off with her sister. He claims they could get along just fine if the relatives were out of the act.

Please print this letter and advise them to stay together, even if it means dropping the relatives. I could get along great without either of my aunts but I could not get along without one of my parents. I gave them this advice and I hope you will, too.—ANN LANDERS THE SECOND.

Dear Ann II: Your advice is excellent. Married people owe their first allegiance to each other. When outsiders cause sparks to fly sometimes the only solution is to cut the connection.

Lonesome Tom

Dear Ann: If so many girls are looking for husbands why can't a decent, respectable guy like me find a girl?

The movies aren't after me but I'm not bad looking. I'm 29 years old, 6 feet, 1 inch tall, weigh 200 pounds and I have wavy hair. My car is in good shape and my job is steady. I'm neat about myself and have no bad habits.

The thing that beats me is that some of the guys I work with have girls after them all the time. The girls phone them at the shop, and pick them up in cars after work. Some of these guys are married men, heavy drinkers and plenty mean.

It makes me think that maybe the way to get a girl is to knock her around a little. Could it that I'm too nice?—TOM.

Dear Tom: If you had made your whereabouts known you'd need police protection.

The world is filled with lonely people. The problem is to get them together. The best (and safest) way to make new acquaintances is through clubs, church groups, bowling teams, adult education classes, community projects, political groups and generous friends. Avoid gin mills and places where girls stag. If you want to find a peach, don't look in a lemon grove.

Language Barrier

Dear Ann: I'm interested in a girl who is 20 years old. She works as a wrapper in a department store, is lots of fun, and her character is good.

The trouble is she makes such ear-shattering errors in ordinary conversation that you'd think she never got through the fourth grade. Here are a few examples: She says, "I have went all over town looking for a dress," and, "I seen it with my own eyes."

I'm not a college man but I speak respectable English. I haven't introduced this girl to my family because frankly I'm ashamed of the way she talks. Do you think I can teach her?—VANCE.

Dear Vance: A 20-year-old who "has went all over town and seen it with her own eyes" may be beyond hope.

I always warn people who write about this problem that after marriage a person's hearing seems to improve. If you can't stand it now, it'll be worse later.

Confidentially

GAMBLER'S WIFE: Your clergyman can help you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Russell W. Wilson

Jeanne Pim Bride Of Russell Wayne Wilson

The sanctuary of the First Friends Church was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Jeanne Louise Pim and Russell Wayne Wilson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren C. Pim of RD 4, Salem, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wilson of RD 1, Berlin Center.

The couple pledged their vows and exchanged wedding rings before the altar which was enhanced with palms, vases of white chrysanthemums, carnations and gladioli and twin seven-branch candelabra.

Rev. Harold B. Winn officiated, assisted by the bridegroom's cousin, Dr. Karl Wilson of Canton.

"Whither Thou Goest," "Through the Years," "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer" were the selections by the soloist, Rev. Dwight Moore of South Boston, Va., brother-in-law of the bride. The organist was Mrs. Dwight Moore, sister of the bride.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride's gown was fashioned with a Florentine lace bodice, styled with a scalloped neckline and short scalloped sleeves. The bouffant skirt of silk organza over taffeta was accented with lace appliques and featured a chapel train of lace. An embroidered crown held her silk illusion veil. An arrangement of white roses and carnations was mounted on the white Bible which she carried.

Identical blue silk shantung sheaths were worn by the bride's attendants. The gowns were designed with square necklines and full pleated overskirts of blue silk organza.

Maid of honor was Miss Margorie Pim, sister of the bride, who carried a white lace fan marked with rose carnations.

Mrs. Joseph Orin, Miss June Wank and Miss Priscilla Parcell were the bridesmaids. They carried white lace fans decorated with yellow carnations. They all wore Dior bows of blue silk organza.

The flower girl, Miss Wendy Mc-

Clurg, niece of the bridegroom, was identically attired as the adult attendants. Terry McClurg, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Paul Wilson was best man for his brother. Ushers were Carl Weidenmier, Duane Boyd, cousin of the bridegroom, and Kenneth Dustman, with Gary and Randy McClurg, nephews of the bridegroom, as junior ushers.

For the daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pim chose a beige embroidered sheath with mint green accessories and a green and white carnation corsage. Mrs. Wilson wore a navy dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Reception Is Held

Approximately 250 guests attended the reception in the church social room. The appointments were in keeping with the blue and white wedding theme. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with two satin bells. The hostesses were Mrs. Kenneth Shallenberg, Mrs. Lloyd Parker, Mrs. Dale McClurg and Mrs. Walden McClurg, sisters of the bridegroom, Misses Sandra Ewing, Carolyn Wank and Normadene Pim, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Paul Wilson registered the guests from Virginia, Indiana, Lima, Springfield, Canton, Greenford, Canfield, Salem, Irondale, Hanoverton and Columbiana.

A graduate of Greenford High School, Mrs. Wilson will graduate Aug. 4 from Canton Aultman Hospital School of Nursing. Her husband graduated from Western Reserve High School and is associated with his father in farming.

Lake Erie was the couple's honeymoon destination. The bride's going away outfit was a two-piece dress with beige accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. They will reside at RD 1, Berlin Center.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts at the rehearsal party Friday evening.

The chancel was graced with twin seven-branch candelabra, palms and a basket of white gladioli and pompons.

Rev. Donald Woodstock officiated at the service which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Fink of RD 1, Beloit, and the son of Mrs. Robert Middeker of Southeast Blvd. and the late Mr. Middeker.

British Discovering Cure For Colds

LONDON (AP) — The British Medical Research Council reported today a vaccine against the common cold is now a possibility following a scientific breakthrough.

The council said it is collaborating with three commercial drug manufacturers who are working on a vaccine.

Scientists working at the Common Cold Research Laboratory at Salisbury discovered that with modification of the technique of tissue culture, viruses of the common cold could be grown consistently.

But the council cautioned that if many types of cold virus exist, prospects of developing a reliable single vaccine are not so bright.

mind, he thinks so, too. Asked in an interview 17 months ago if the allies are in a position to fight anything but a nuclear war, Kennedy said no.

If he still feels that way then anything he says tonight—about building up ground forces—will be more for the psychological effect on the Russians, by showing American determination, than for any visible practical effect.

Nevertheless, Kennedy is not likely to sound belligerent. He will probably leave a door open for negotiation with the Russians about Berlin.

This is exactly what he did seven days ago in the tough note this country sent to the Soviets on Berlin, warning them not to try force. But one part of that note was more propaganda than reality.

It said that in any settlement with Russia the United States insists on "conformity with the principle of self-determination" for the West Germans and the Germans living in Communist East Germany.

The last thing the Russians want is to let the East Germans—in free and open elections—decide whether they want to associate themselves with the West Germans or live under communism.

So it's a useful propaganda needle for the United States to keep telling the Russians that two Germanies must vote on what kind of government they want. Besides, the West Germans won't agree to permanent division of Germany.

THANKS TO GAS YOUR HOME COULD BE COOL THESE HOT HOT DAYS

YOU already have half of a central air conditioning system installed... now is the time to ADD the rest...

If your house is winter-heated by a forced air gas furnace with adequate ducts, you can add to it a simple gas-operated unit that will provide summer cooling in every room now reached by warm-air outlets. That's all it takes to convert your present forced air gas furnace into a year-around central air conditioner. In summer weather, refreshingly cool, clean air circulates throughout the house. Come winter, you will enjoy the same comfortable gas heating you've always had by simply adjusting the convenient thermostat. If your furnace is ready for replacement anyhow — you can get a complete all-gas central air conditioning system. A single unit will heat and cool your entire home with clean, fresh circulated air.

Let The Gas Company show you what their written guarantee of performance means — how they will help you finance the purchase and installation costs.

Frank Robinson Sparks Cincinnati to 9-3 Victory

Colavito's Homer Gives Tigers Win

Reds Capture Third In Row, Lead NL by 2; Detroit Tops NY by 1

By The Associated Press

Rocky Colavito's three-run homer led the league-leading Detroit Tigers to a 5-2 victory over the Los Angeles Angels in the American League Monday night as streaking Frank Robinson hit a homer, double and single to pace Cincinnati's National League pace-steers to a 9-3 rout of Milwaukee.

Colavito, taking over where slugging teammate Norm Cash left off Sunday, belted his homer in the sixth inning to give the Tigers their third straight victory. The win at Los Angeles stretched Detroit's lead to one full game over the idle New York Yankees. Dick McAuliffe's two-run homer in the ninth iced the triumph for Jim Bunning (11-7) and the Tigers.

Breaking Par In PGA Tourney Not Expected

169 In Field, Palmer Favored

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Par should be highly respected when a field of 169 pros start taking a crack at it Thursday in the 72-hole, stroke-play National Professional Golfers Association tournament.

The 35-35-70 standard over the wooded terrain of Olympia Fields North Course has stood up well in previous big tournaments.

Few Break Par

In practices, there are few, if any, golfers who boast of shattering par on the 6,722-yard layout.

Arnold Palmer shot a 69 June 6 to defeat defending PGA champion Jay Hebert by four strokes in climaxing National Golf Week. The rough has been allowed to grow since then in a gradual toughening-up process that will put a premium on accuracy.

Palmer and Hebert agreed then that anything from 277 to 280 might be the winning total.

Only once has par taken a real whipping on the North Course. Lawson Little's 65 in a 1940 qualifying round for the USGA open stands as the course record.

Palmer Man to Beat

Palmer is regarded the man to beat in a field which includes champions of 42 of the PGA's sponsored tournaments, 16 former PGA winners, 20 leading money winners of the year, 81 National Open titlists and 7 Masters' champions.

Winner of the British Open this month, USGA Open in 1960 and the Masters in 1958 and 1960, Palmer needs only the PGA crown to sew up all major titles.

Ailing U.S. Track Team Is Improving

WARSAW (AP) — The medical report on the crippled United States track team which meets Poland here this weekend began to improve today.

The Poles were almost as happy about it as United States coach Jim Elliott.

"We don't want to go against a team that has a lot of injuries," said one Polish athletic official. "We have been hearing about the troubles the Americans have been having and have been hoping that they would come around."

"If we lose, we want to lose to a healthy team and if we win, we want to beat the best."

At the moment, 10 members of Elliott's 40-man squad are ill or injured. Hop, step and jumper Bill Sharpe's leg was so bad he was sent home Monday.

The only one who might miss the meet, however, is javelin thrower John Fromm, who has had a bad pull in his right side.

The team will have six days rest between the Great Britain and Polish meets and that should help considerably. Last week, the squad defeated the Russians 13-9, the West Germans 14-6 and Great Britain 13-7n.

U.S. Women's Golf Tourney Has Nation's Best

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Approximately 50 of the nation's best women golfers tee off Wednesday in the fourth annual American Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Defending champion Patty Berg will be rivaled by some 30 other professionals and 20 amateurs, including Mickey Wright, Marlene Bauer Hagge, Louise Suggs, Betty Rawls and others.

The $7,500 medal play tourney opens with a golf clinic and pro-amateur day. Actual competition gets under way Thursday and ends Sunday, 72 holes later.

Last year's low amateur, Carole Pushing of Olivia, Minn., will be a definite threat with her 5 handicap.

Washington Better

'60 Attendance Total

NEW YORK (AP) — The Washington Senators drew 44,821 for a two-day, three-game series with the New York Yankees last week and pulled ahead of last season's home attendance pace of the old Senators, now in Minnesota.

The Senators have played to 420,115 in 42 dates in Griffith Stadium compared to 411,887 by the team which represented the nation's capital in 1960.

Four Clubs Show Gains

Cincinnati, Detroit, Kansas City and the Yankees are the only other major league clubs showing attendance gains. The Reds are up 172,000, the Tigers 56,000, the Athletics 39,000 and the Yankees 28,000.

The decreases, in figures compiled by the Associated Press through Sunday's games, range from 361,000 for the Chicago White Sox to 55,000 for the Baltimore Orioles. Other deficits are the Los Angeles Dodgers 346,000, San Francisco Giants 310,000, Philadelphia 244,000, Cleveland 237,000, Milwaukee 222,000, Pittsburgh 165,000, Boston 150,000, St. Louis 135,000 and the Chicago Cubs 114,000.

Twins Fourth Highest in AL

The new Minnesota club has drawn 708,562, fourth highest in the 10-team American League, while the Los Angeles Angels, the other new franchise, have the lowest home attendance in either league — 373,195. However, the combined total for both teams gives the junior circuit an increase of 7.8 per cent. The AL has played before 6,002,214 compared to 5,592,854 last season.

The National League, which has attracted 5,274,751 customers this year, is 20.6 per cent under last year's total of 6,637,126.

Max Carey Joins Others In Plea

Newest Hall of Famer Wants Spit Ball Back

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—If the newest Hall of Famer has his way the spit ball is on the way back in baseball.

Max Carey, who was formally inducted Monday with the late Billy Hamilton, added his voice to those of Commissioner Ford Frick and American League President Joe Cronin in a plea for the return of the outlawed spitter.

"I think the spit ball should come back but not under that name," said Carey, now 71. "Should Give It New Name"

"Maybe we should call it the emory ball or the saliva ball. It would help the pitchers stop some of those home runs. I think a lot of people like to see the kind of game we used to play when there was suspense about your ability to score a run. I believe in running bases."

Carey and Hamilton were two of the great base stealers, ranking with the late Ty Cobb. Hamilton stole 797 bases in the National League, including 115 in 1891 with Philadelphia. Counting two years in the American Association, which called itself a major, he stole 937, higher than Cobb's official record of 892. Carey stole 738, the modern National League record, with Pittsburgh and Brooklyn from 1910 through 1929.

Both Frick and Cronin favor the return of the spitter, which some claim is now used illegally by Milwaukee's Lew Burdette and New York's Whitey Ford among others.

Proposes A New Statistic
Carey also proposed a new statistic to be known as "T.A.B. or total advance." It would give credit to hitters who advance a runner around the bases but do not drive in a run.

Plaques to Carey and Hamilton were dedicated by Frick in front of the Hall of Fame before the exhibition game at Doubleday Field in which the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Baltimore Orioles 6-2. It rained during the ceremonies but a bright sun greeted the 10,000 fans at the game.

Amateurs, Late Models Feature Card

Nine-Events Head Canfield Speedway Program Saturday

Stock car racing resumes at Canfield Speedway Saturday with a big nine-race program for the late models and the amateurs.

The amateur field has been growing at such a fast pace (47 appeared at the last race) that an extra heat event has been added. Heading the nine-race program will be a 20-lap feature for the amateurs and a 25-lapper for the late models.

Canfield's winningest driver and point-leader, Bill Forney, will head the late model field. Forney has chalked up four victories, including the midseason championship. Nook Walters of Niles is close behind with three. Jim Bickert of Youngstown has two triumphs.

These three top drivers will get plenty of competition from Bob James of Akron, Wimpy May of Auburn Corners, Don Sawyer of Girard, Dick Arnold of Painesville, Gus Acozilli of Warren and many others.

Tops in the amateur field are Paul Kerr of Youngstown and Bud Middaugh of Massillon. Both have won two features, while Middaugh copped the midseason title. Bob Bowen of Conneaut, Chuck Daugherty of Youngstown, Phil Wertz of Canfield and Jim Raumbaugh each have copped the checkered flag once.

The amateurs are providing plenty of thrills as they go all out to win and feuds are developing right and left. Bowen and Jack Seibert of Girard had hot words after Bowen ran the auto dealer off the track recently. Then Kerr piled Harold McCauley into the fence.

Anything can happen and it usually does when the amateurs get together. Another feature Saturday will be the appearance of spectators. They again will be invited out of the stands to take part in a couple of heat races.

Two weeks ago Dick Rutledge of Youngstown surprised everyone by coming down and taking sixth place.

Time trials are at 7 and first race 8:30 p.m.

Motorcycle Club Hosts Ohio Rally

The Western Reserve Flyers Motorcycle Club will be host for the second annual Northeast Ohio Rally this weekend.

Field events will be staged Saturday afternoon, flat track races at night, and scrambles races on Sunday.

The track is located on the Middletown Rd., about four miles north of here and can be reached from either Rt. 14 or Rt. 45. The 75-acre grounds will be opened to camping for visiting cyclists.

The first night races at the newly-lighted quarter-mile oval were held last Friday when Tom Scharlow of Youngstown, driving a Triumph Cub, captured the feature race. Scharlow also posted the best time in the time trials, qualifying with a 21.10.

Finishing behind Scharlow in the feature were Robert Worden of Akron, second; and Charles Bosely of Canton, third. The top three finishers all drove Triumphs.

Results of the semi-feature were as follows:

1. Robert Eaton, Youngstown (Harley-Davidson); 2. Charles DeMoss, (Triumph); 3. Ike Aston (Harley-Davidson).

Johnny Semple of Cleveland won the trophy dash, driving a Triumph.

In this day of Mechanized Farming, Farm Safety is of the utmost importance; it pays to be alert and have everything in order. See that tractors, trucks, and other farm machinery and equipment are kept in repair. Watch electric especially in the outbuildings. Be careful about building bonfires. Fire on a farm is a serious matter! Do you carry Liability Insurance, so that if someone is injured on your property you would be protected? Are your buildings properly insured? Do you have accident and hospitalization insurance? The modern farm is like a factory and safety first is given great importance in manufacturing plants, Better Be Safe Than Sorry!

Seeking 'Maximum Competition'
U.S. Communications Missile Could Get Private Ownership

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, in a statement of policy, has announced that a U.S. communications satellite system should be owned and operated by private companies—if certain requirements are met.

Among the requirements he laid down was "maximum possible competition."

In his statement Monday Kennedy again invited all nations to join in the space network "in the interest of world peace and closer brotherhood among peoples throughout the world."

He drew up guidelines for business requirements and government responsibility in the program which is still in the research and development stage.

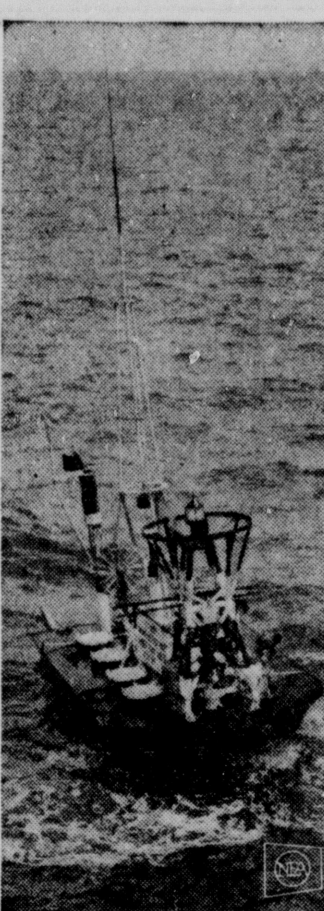

Kennedy said private ownership and operation of "the U.S. portion of the system is favored, providing that such ownership and operation" meet policy requirements.

These include:

A new and expanded international communications system, including service to unprofitable areas; opportunities for foreign participation in the system; effective competition in buying of equipment or control which will assure "maximum possible competition" and development of an economic system.

The federal government for its part, Kennedy said, will, among other things, conduct and encourage research and development in the field handle international agreements provide technical assistance to newly developing nations to help maintain a global system.

Kennedy put policy coordination in the hands of the National Aeronautics and Space Council.

WEATHER FORECASTER — This shiplike instrument is called the Nomad I. The moored unmanned weather station collects advanced hurricane information. It can operate at sea for two years, transmitting coded short-wave signals concerning air, barometric and water data. U. S. Weather Bureau, Washington, has a program for establishing seven pilot models for testing.

Homegrown Produce Now On Markets

"Local produce counters are showing signs of summer," reports Richard Skinner, marketing agent with the Farm Cooperative Extension Service in Canfield.

Locally-grown cabbage, snapbeans, cucumbers and summer squash are appearing on the markets in good volume. Quality is good and prices reasonable.

Sweet corn fresh from local fields will be on the market in about a week. The corn presently on the market is coming from the southern states and southern Ohio. The local corn will have better flavor in most instances because of shorter time from harvest to market, Skinner says.

Field grown tomatoes are beginning to appear on many markets in greater volume. Tomatoes in local fields will soon begin to ripen in volume.

On fresh fruit counters you will continue to find a few raspberries but they will soon be gone. Peaches are in plentiful supply although locally-grown peaches will not be ready for another week or two. Early Red Free will be the first local peach that most of you will find on the market.

Transparent apples are now on the market in volume. Quality is much improved. This is the first apple to appear on the market. Locally-grown apples will be on the market from now until next spring.

Plums are in good supply. Grape quality is down somewhat from previous weeks but should improve within the next few weeks.

Wholesome beef prices have held nearly stable for the past couple of weeks. Little change is likely at retail except on featured cuts. Chuck and rib cuts still appear to be the best prospects for retail "special" due to seasonally light demand for these cuts.

Penney Co. Installs Electronics System

In a retailing "first," J. C. Penney Co., national retail department store chain numbering 1,700 stores, including the one in Salem, introduced today a new electronic data processing system at its new Pittsburgh regional credit office to handle accounts receivable in its new credit program.

The installation of the new equipment—a data-processing system with magnetic tape—marks a milestone in the company's records-handling procedures. It will process charge accounts for 116 Penney stores in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and West Virginia.

S. C. Patterson, general credit manager, said, "The accuracy and speed of the new electronic system makes it possible for Penney's to handle larger volumes of customer account transactions faster and more efficiently with resultant better service for our charge customers."

U. S. I, which runs north and south along the East Coast, grew out of an old pack trail down the full line of the Eastern Seaboard.

Topics of Interest To Farmers; Notes About Meetings

Potato Growers to Meet

Potato growers of Columbiana and Mahoning Counties will hold their annual twilight meeting on Tuesday, Aug. 1, with the group meeting at the potato plots at Firestone Farms near Columbiana at 6:30 p.m.

They will go from there to the potato field of Ivan Reash and Sons farm near New Waterford, according to Floyd Lower, Columbiana county extension agent in agriculture.

After viewing the insecticide plots on the Reash farm, the group will hear Dr. E. L. Nixon of University Park, Pa., speak on potato growing. Dr. Nixon, well-known by all commercial potato men, is an outstanding authority in the potato business.

Experiment Station Events

The annual sheep day is scheduled Friday at the Ohio Experiment Station at Wooster and a number of county sheep raisers are expected to attend.

Orchard Day will be observed at the experiment station on Thursday, Aug. 3, and several local orchardmen will attend.

Dairy Day is scheduled Aug. 11 at the experiment station.

Interesting programs have been arranged for all these events, according to County Farm Agent Floyd Lower.

Vegetable Growers to Meet

Vegetable growers in Columbiana and Mahoning counties will hold their annual twilight meeting at the T. C. Stein farm, west of Guilford on Route 172, Aug. 8.

The program will be announced later.

Leaf Scorch Troublesome

The wet spring was favorable for the development of many plant diseases which are now bothering backyard gardeners and farmers, according to County Agent Floyd Lower.

For example, many maple trees are affected with anthracnose or leaf scorch. Little can be done at this time of the year to control either disease, Mr. Lower points out.

Spraying with bordeaux early in the spring when dormant is recommended for anthracnose. Fertilizing, top pruning to improve the water supply to remaining leaves, and watering during drought periods are helpful in combating scorch, he says.

Use of captan as a fungicide for disease on fruits, vegetables and ornamentals is recommended for backyard gardeners. However, the control of many diseases must begin before the disease has progressed to any extent, Mr. Lower said.

Ozark Mountain Town 1st For Redevelopment

GASSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The U.S. Commerce Department has put this tiny Ozark Mountain town on the map by granting it the nation's first project under the new Area Redevelopment Act.

Gassville, whose single paved street is U.S. Highway 62, will get a federal loan of $31,000 and a grant of $129,000 to help pay for a water system vital to a new industry. The grant was announced Monday.

The Mar-Bax Shirt Co. is building a $470,000 plant here to employ 1,000 from a four-county area in the manufacture of men's shirts. Its $2.5-million annual payroll will give the area's sagging economy a vital boost.

Gassville's population is 233 and its business section consists of three general stores, a post office and two antique shops. Many of its people are retired.

"But we're proud people today," said Mayor Harry Jowett, 70, a retired circuit-riding Methodist minister. "Now we've got what it takes to develop our town and give our young people jobs at home where they belong."

The town is in Baxter County in the north-central section of the state, 20 miles south of the Missouri border.

Pilot Sights New Comet Over Oregon

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—"I've been looking for one all my life," said the man credited with discovering Comet Wilson while flying at 29,000 feet off the Oregon coast.

A. Stewart Wilson, 34, of Seattle, second officer on a Pan American World Airways flight from Honolulu, said he was looking casually for the planet Mercury with his binoculars.

Then a wedge of light appeared and narrowed to a point—the head of a comet.

At San Francisco, other airline pilots also reported seeing a mysterious light Sunday and Monday mornings, but Wilson, an amateur star gazer, apparently was first to report it.

When Wilson got home he tried to telephone Harvard Observatory. He couldn't raise anyone so he wired. Monday Harvard reported the discovery and said the name would be Comet Wilson.

The new comet has a long tail and third magnitude brightness, which makes it two to three times dimmer than the North Star but much brighter than the Milky Way.

Harvard said it can be seen in the northeastern sky in early morning.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Harold E. Knapp Sr. of Dover will serve out the unexpired term of Clyde Myers on the Unemployment Compensation Advisory Council, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says. Myers, of Dennison, resigned. Knapp's term ends Feb. 28, 1963.

REPORTS EARNINGS
MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Armco Steel Corp. says its second quarter earnings of 1961 were $13,915,322, or 94 cents a share compared to profit of $17,775,225 in a similar period of 1960.
